BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 12.—The Brooklyn Ship of State sailed into the Boston Harbor this afternoon wrecked, with four big holes in her side. Another ship reached America exactly 424 years ago today, and Boston is celebrating the arrival of Columbus this afternoon. The Boston fans are also celebrating the wrecking of the Brooklyn ship on a rock-bound shore.

For the fourth time in the history of the game the Boston Americans are World Champions. They defeated the Brooklyn team this afternoon by a score of 4 to 1, giving Boston four victories out of five. Boston has now won more world championships than any other American League team.

Shore Is the Hero
It was the work of a tall youth from South Carolina who was responsible for the swan-song of the Robins in Boston today. This tall youth, who extends up into the ethereal waves a distance of 6 feet 5 inches, toyed with the Brooklyn batters this afternoon. Throughout the nine innings he was using his fast ball, which had a noticeable break to it, and only three singles were made off his delivery. These singles were as scattered as icebergs in the middle of the Atlantic, and Brooklyn never had a chance from the time that the umpire handed Shore a new ball and Harry Myers, another Southerner, walked out to the plate before more than 40,000 fans seated in Braves' field. Shore was as cool as the proverbial cucumber and when Cady let a ball go by him which meant a run, and Scott boosted the ball, the tall youth from East Bend did not weaken.

Brooklyn lost because it could not hit the tall hurler. Pfeffer pitched a great game as world's series games go, but the Dodgers did not have a chance with the ball coming down at them from such a height and curved in every possible direction. Jake Daubert and Zack Wheat, who have hampered the National League pitchers for an average of more than 200, were as babes before the towering heaver of the home team.

In four times to bat Daubert did not once hit the ball out of the infield, while Shore fanned Wheat on two occasions. The Boston pitcher deserved a shutout. It was one of his shoos that got away from Cady which gave Brooklyn the solitary run, without a hit being made in that inning.

Stengel, Mowrey and Meyers were the only Brooklyn batters to hit safely, and the trio of bingles did not figure in run making. Big Ed Pfeffer pitched good ball, but his hurling was of no avail. Boston hit when runs were needed, and the six hits off the big pitcher gave the home folks four runs, which was more than enough to win.

Both shortstops played far below their standard this afternoon. Everett Scott made his first error of the series when he threw Stengel's grounder away. Olson's two slips in the third inning were responsible for one of the two runs made. Larry Gardner was in his element. The Brooklyn batters kept hitting drives down toward the difficult corner, and the Vermont boy continued to pick them up and hurl them to first. He handled six chances without the semblance of an error.

Hooper and Lewis, the World Series Twins, were in the limelight today. These two players go along throughout the season hitting around .270, and when the world's series comes around they are the men who come through in a pinch. With the help of Janvrin and Shorten today these boys from Sunny California figured in the Boston offense.

Loan Fund Commissioners In Meeting Today Refuse to Delay Bidding

ATTORNEYS FOR MARSTON CAMPBELL FILE LETTERS

Kirchoff Reports That Lord-Young Roller Is Sent to Repair Shop

Turning down the request of the governor to delay action in the Hillsbrand Glen project, the Oahu loan fund commissioners in meeting today voted to call for bids on the plans and specifications submitted to them some days since by James T. Taylor and Fred Kirchoff, engineers.

Commissioners who voted today were Mayor Lane, E. G. Duisenberg and A. D. Castro. Lester Petrie, who yesterday stated his belief that Niunuu reservoir is suitable as a storage base of diverted water from Hillsbrand, was not present at the meeting. The vote came at 12:04 o'clock and at the end of a comparatively short meeting.

When the vote had been taken the commissioners, headed by Chairman Charles H. Forbes, who had a few moments before reminded those present that it would not be a mistake to wait on the matter, placed their signatures to the plans.

Castro Moves to Call
Commissioner Castro made the motion which brought about the vote. He said he believed it was the duty of the commission to approve the plans and call for bids.

"I should like to state," said the chairman before calling for a vote, "that the commission is the agent for disbursing this money, but that it is up to the city and county to pay it back in time. If this is a good investment I do not hesitate to put my name to it. On the other hand, there can be no mistake in studying it carefully from all sides. I regret that Mr. Petrie is not here."

"You heard the governor yesterday. He asked the commission to wait until January 1, and he was advised by a man who has studied water questions for a long while, Superintendent

DEADLOCK STILL HOLDS BETWEEN STRIKE FORCES

Strikebreaking Camp Reopens; Hawaiians Walk Out After Getting Fine Breakfast

With 300 more union men walking out at 6:30 this morning, and the strike-breaking camp on Pier 16 in full operation again after having been discontinued only 24 hours, striking union stevedores and employers are deadlocked today. There seems no prospect of any settlement at this time.

All the trouble is over the question of the employment of union Japanese stevedores by McCabe, Hamilton & Renny. The stevedoring firm is standing pat, holding that it will employ whoever it sees fit regardless of the union and will not be dictated by the union strikers. The union men are also marking time, claiming they have plenty of money in their relief fund to buy fish and poi, and are able to hold out indefinitely until their demand that the stevedoring firm cease discriminating against union Japanese is granted.

Strike-Breakers' Camp Reopens
At 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon Jack Belser was instructed by the committee of shippers to reopen the strike-breaking camp on Pier 16 and prepare to care for hundreds of strikebreakers. By 6 o'clock this morning there were several hundred Filipinos and Japanese strikebreakers in the enclosure ready to go to work.

Hawaiian Quit After Breakfast
At about this hour between 200 and 300 stevedores, mostly union Hawaiians and Japanese, were waiting at Pier 16 for a chance to go to work. Most of them were admitted to the camp and given a hearty breakfast. While they were eating someone in the crowd spread the news that all union Japanese had been barred by stevedoring officials from going on the pier with the Hawaiians. This trip to be counted as a regular practice march. The plan is to march from Hilo to Kilauea.

Officer Who Helped Create Army Department On Oahu Is Retired

Brig-Gen. Montgomery Meigs Macomb

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 12.—Brig-Gen. M. M. Macomb, president of the Army War College since April, 1914, was retired for age today.

Hawaii has a particular interest in General Macomb since he is largely responsible for the present Hawaiian Department. U. S. Army, and much of the plan of defense built up here is of his creation. The "Macomb board" as it was called, is credited with having been the first to work out defense plans of Oahu in detail and many of its recommendations have been closely followed.

Gen. Macomb has had a long and distinguished record. He was born in Detroit, Michigan, October 12, 1852, graduating from the Military Academy in 1874, fourth in his class. He served all over the country and in Central America, Porto Rico, the Philippines and elsewhere, being in charge of much geographic and exploration work. During the Japanese-Russian war he was a military attaché with the Russian armies. He was one of the army's leading artillery experts and a splendid executive.

Gen. Macomb came to Hawaii in January, 1911, commanding the then District of Hawaii, which was elevated into a department on February 14, 1913, and which he commanded for two periods. He went to Washington in March, 1914, and has been president of the War College since the following month. He never lost his interest in Hawaii and was particularly appreciative of the efforts to build up the National Guard here.

Presidents of Nineteen Institutions Called Into Conference at Washington October 17

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 12.—Nineteen university and college presidents, representing leading educational institutions of the country, have been called into conference here preparatory to the establishment of systematic methods for training reserve officers of the army in each institution. The conference is to be held on October 17.

The colleagues will discuss with the general army staff military courses to be organized in the institutions desiring to take advantage of provisions for army reorganization and to build up their military courses.

BIG DAMAGE DONE IN DANISH INDIES

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 12.—U. S. Consul Payne of St. Thomas, Danish West Indies, cabled to the state department today estimating that the cyclone has done $2,000,000 damage in this part of the West Indies and that two-thirds of the natives need food and shelter.

WOULD VISIT KILAUEA

Companies A and I, 1st Infantry, Schofield Barracks, have applied for permission to visit the volcano, the trip to be counted as a regular practice march. The plan is to march from Hilo to Kilauea.

DANIELS COMPLETES PLAN FOR U. S. NAVAL PATROL ON COAST TO PROTECT THREE-MILE LIMIT

ENTIRE DESTROYER FORCE AND LIGHT CRUISERS AND AUXILIARIES TO BE EMPLOYED IF DIVER RAIDS CONTINUE—GERMANS DEFEATING RUMANIANS ALONG WHOLE OF TRANSYLVANIA FRONT

(Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless)
BERLIN, Germany, Oct. 12.—Members of the Reichstag who have been considering in committee the question of submarine warfare, and the extent to which it shall be pushed, have split apart.

In the Reichstag session today Major Bassermann, leader of the National Liberal wing, read a report from the budget committee stating that the committee has been unable to reach a decision on the submarine question and referred it back to the house.

The report said, however, that the committee had voted 24 to 4 against open discussion of the issue.

The issue involved is told in a despatch last month from London, as follows:

LONDON.—According to a Berne, Switzerland, despatch to the Wireless Press, German Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg, upon being asked at the August meeting of the Federal Council why he had yielded to the demands of the United States regarding the unrestricted torpedoing of ships on the high seas, replied emphatically that the value of the submarine was exaggerated by the adherents of wholesale torpedoing. The chancellor said insistence on an unrestricted submarine warfare would cause war between Germany and the United States, and that the results of unlimited torpedoing would not justify such a policy.

U. S. Navy Establishing Coast Patrol

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 12.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels has completed a definite plan for the establishment of a naval patrol along the Atlantic coast, if the German submarine campaign against commerce continues.

The menace to neutrality of the submarines operating off the coast and the necessity for seeing that they do not work inside the three-mile limit are the moving cause for Daniels' plan. Under this the entire destroyer force of the navy, and the available light cruisers assisting, will form the backbone of the patrol fleet, with auxiliaries also employed.

Teutons Winning Fight in Transylvania

BERLIN, Germany, Oct. 12.—The Teuton forces operating in Transylvania have inflicted a series of defeats on the Rumanians who came through the Alpine passes and struck toward Hungary.

The Teutons are now pursuing the Rumanians on the whole eastern Transylvania front. The second Rumanian army has been driven back into its frontier positions.

Steamers at New York; Fear to Go Out

NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 12.—Eight steamers flying the flag of one of the Entente Powers are tied up here, awaiting advice as to whether it is safe to sail, in view of last Sunday's submarine raids.

No further information has been received concerning the U-53 and the other submarines reported to be operating with this craft.

Admiral Gleaves, commanding the destroyer flotilla which has been making a search of the sea off the Nantucket for missing vessels or passengers and crews possibly afloat in life-boats, said today that he personally does not believe that either a steamer Kingston or Kingstonian has been sunk. Earlier reports had it that a steamer by one of these names has been torpedoed and that the crew of about 50 had taken to boats. The destroyers have found no evidence that any such ship was submerged.

LONDON, Eng., Oct. 12.—A despatch from Christiania says that the Norwegian steamer Birk has been sunk in the war-zone.

Second Greek Government Established

LONDON, Eng., Oct. 12.—The revolt against the Constantine government is spreading rapidly and taking much more permanent form than expected, according to a despatch through Reuter's from Saloniki. News comes today that M. Zimbrakatis has been appointed minister of war of the provisional government. The seat of this government is believed to be at Mytilene, where the ministers are organizing their followers.

Reports indicate that the Greek authorities have yielded to the emphatic demands of the Entente Powers for turning over virtually the entire Greek navy, either dismantling or surrendering the forts along the seacoast.

It is reported that the Entente demands also include the surrender of control of all railroads, mail and telegraph facilities.

After several days' preparation, the fire of the French succeeded in penetrating into the Bon-D'Yvermandouilles section and our troops were pushed back upon a prepared line. Today our flyers shot down four hostile aeroplanes behind the enemy's front and four behind our lines.

Southeast of Rheims a German reconnoitering raid penetrated into the third French trench and brought in prisoners. In the Meuse sector the fire activity is still increasing, especially east of the river. On the Thiaumont-Floury lines there were some hand grenade combats. Each of Floury a French advance was repulsed.

Eastern arena: Little news except in the Transylvania region, where the enemy still opposes stubborn resistance in Maros valley. In Georgia the valley and northwest of Pasayo the enemy again gave way. In the Alt valley the defeated enemy is being pursued. The pursuit of the second army, defeated near Kronstadt, continues. No events on von Mackensen's front or along the Danube and Dobruja. Our air squadrons successfully bombed targets moving near Constanza, Rumania. On the Macedonian front enemy attacks were unsuccessful. Hostile advances on the Czerna and west of the Vardar river were fruitless.
